Introduction

Purpose of the Annual Audit Plan

1. The purpose of this Annual Audit Plan is to provide an overview of the planned scope and timing of the 2025/26 audit of the Scottish Consolidated Fund's annual accounts. It outlines the audit work planned to meet the audit requirements set out in auditing standards and the Code of Audit Practice, including supplementary guidance.

Appointed auditor and independence

2. Carole Grant, of Audit Scotland, has been appointed by the Auditor General for Scotland as external auditor of the Scottish Consolidated Fund for the period from 2022/23 until 2026/27. The 2025/26 financial year is therefore the fourth of the five-year audit appointment.

3. Carole Grant and the audit team are independent of the Scottish Consolidated Fund in accordance with relevant ethical requirements, including the Financial Reporting Council's Ethical Standard. This standard imposes stringent rules to ensure the independence and objectivity of auditors. Audit Scotland has robust arrangements in place to ensure compliance with ethical standards. The arrangements are overseen by the Executive Director of Innovation and Quality, who serves as Audit Scotland's Ethics Partner.

4. The Ethical Standard requires auditors to communicate any relationships that may affect the independence and objectivity of the audit team. We are not aware of any such relationships, pertaining to the audit of the Scottish Consolidated Fund, that we would be required to communicate.

Communication of suspected fraud

5. In line with ISA 240, in presenting this annual audit plan to the Scottish Government Audit and Assurance Committee we seek confirmation from those charged with governance of any instances of actual, suspected or alleged fraud that should be brought to our attention. Should members of the committee have any such knowledge or concerns relating to the risk of fraud, we invite them to communicate this to the appointed auditor for consideration. Similar assurances will be sought as part of the audit completion process.

Audit scope and responsibilities

Scope of the audit

6. The audit is performed in accordance with the Code of Audit Practice, including supplementary guidance, International Standards on Auditing (UK), and relevant legislation. These set out the requirements for the scope of the audit which includes:

- An audit of the financial statements, including the regularity of receipts and payments, and an opinion on whether they give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement.
- An opinion on statutory other information published with the financial statements in the Accounts, namely the Governance Statement.
- Concluding on the financial sustainability of the Scottish Consolidated Fund and a review of the Governance Statement.
- Providing assurance on the Whole of Government Accounts return.
- Provision of an Annual Audit Report setting out significant matters identified from the audit.

Responsibilities

7. The Code of Audit Practice sets out the respective responsibilities of the Scottish Government and the auditor. A summary of the key responsibilities is outlined below.

Auditor's responsibilities

8. The responsibilities of auditors in the public sector are established in the Public Finance and Accountability (Scotland) Act 2000. These include providing an independent opinion on the financial statements and other information reported within the Accounts.

Scottish Government responsibilities

9. The Scottish Consolidated Fund receives sums which have been voted by the UK Parliament as well as receipts collected from other sources such as devolved taxes and Scottish Income Tax. Sums paid out of the Scottish Consolidated Fund are used to support spending plans approved by the Scottish Parliament in the annual Budget Act. The Scottish Government has stewardship of these funds and prepares the Scottish Consolidated Fund Accounts, reflecting all receipts into and payments out of the fund.

10. The Scottish Government is responsible for maintaining accounting records and preparing financial statements in accordance with the requirements of the Public Finance and Accountability (Scotland) Act 2000 and directions made thereunder by the Scottish Ministers.

11. In addition, the Scottish Government is responsible for ensuring the proper financial stewardship of public funds, compliance with relevant legislation and establishing effective arrangements for governance, propriety and regularity that enable them to deliver their objectives.

12. The audit of the financial statements does not relieve management or the Scottish Government Audit and Assurance Committee, as those charged with governance, of their responsibilities.

Audit of the Accounts

Materiality

13. The Scottish Consolidated Fund Accounts are an essential part of demonstrating the Scottish Government's stewardship of resources.

14. The audit of the Accounts is driven by materiality and the risks of material misstatement in the financial statements, with greater attention being given to the significant risks of material misstatement. This section outlines materiality, the significant risks of material misstatement that have been identified, and the impact these have on the planned audit procedures.

15. The concept of materiality is applied by auditors in planning and performing an audit, and in evaluating the effect of any uncorrected misstatements on the financial statements or other information reported in the Accounts.

16. Broadly, the concept of materiality is to determine whether matters identified during the audit could reasonably be expected to influence the decisions of users of the financial statements. Auditors set a monetary threshold when determining materiality, although some issues may be considered material by their nature. Therefore, materiality is ultimately a matter of the auditor's professional judgement.

17. The materiality levels determined for the audit of the Scottish Consolidated Fund are outlined in Exhibit 1.

Exhibit 1

2025/26 Materiality levels for the Scottish Consolidated Fund

Materiality	Value
Materiality – based on an assessment of the needs of users of the financial statements and the nature of the Scottish Consolidated Fund's operations, the benchmark used to determine materiality is total payments from the Fund based on the audited 2024/25 financial statements. Materiality has been set at 0.5 per cent of the benchmark.	£260 million

Materiality	Value
Performance materiality – this acts as a trigger point. If the aggregate of misstatements identified during the audit exceeds performance materiality, this could indicate that further audit procedures are required. Using professional judgement, performance materiality has been set at 75 per cent of planning materiality.	£195 million
Reporting threshold – all misstatements greater than the reporting threshold will be reported.	£1 million

Significant risks of material misstatement to the financial statements

18. The risk assessment process draws on the audit team’s cumulative knowledge of the Scottish Consolidated Fund, including the nature of its operations and its significant transaction streams, the system of internal control, governance arrangements and processes, and developments that could impact on its financial reporting.

19. Based on the risk assessment process, one significant risk of material misstatement to the financial statements has been identified. Exhibit 2 summarises this risk and the planned audit procedures we plan to performance to gain assurance.

20. The risk assessment process is an iterative and dynamic process. The assessment of risks may change as more information and evidence is obtained over the course of the audit. Where such changes occur, these will be reported to the Scottish Government and those charged with governance.

Exhibit 2

Significant risks of material misstatement to the financial statements

Risk of material misstatement	Planned audit response
Fraud caused by management override of controls Management is in a unique position to perpetrate fraud because of its ability to override controls that otherwise appear to be operating effectively. This is presumed to be a significant risk in all audits.	The audit team will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Evaluate the design and implementation of controls over journal entry processing. • Make inquiries of individuals involved in the financial reporting process about inappropriate or unusual activity relating to the processing of journal entries. • Test journals entries and other adjustments during the financial year. • Evaluate significant transactions outside the normal course of business. • Substantively test receipts and payments.

Key audit matters

21. The Code of Audit Practice requires public sector auditors to communicate key audit matters. Key audit matters are those matters, that in the auditor's professional judgement, are of most significance to the audit of the financial statements and require most attention when performing the audit. The matters determined to be key audit matters will be communicated in the Annual Audit Report.

Wider scope

Less complex bodies approach

22. Reflecting the fact that public money is involved, the Code of Audit Practice requires that public audit is planned and undertaken from a wider perspective than in the private sector. The wider scope audit broadens the audit of the Accounts to include consideration of additional aspects or risks in the four wider scope areas of financial management, financial sustainability, vision, leadership and governance, and use of resources to improve outcomes.

23. Due to the nature of the Scottish Consolidated Fund, including the low volume and lack of complexity of the financial transactions, we have concluded that it is a less complex body for the wider scope audit. Therefore, our work is focused on the appropriateness of the governance statement and consideration of financial sustainability.

24. We have not identified any specific risks in relation to the wider scope audit.

Reporting arrangements, timetable and audit fee

Audit outputs

25. The outputs from the 2025/26 audit include:

- This Annual Audit Plan.
- An Independent Auditor's Report to the Scottish Government, the Auditor General for Scotland, and the Scottish Parliament setting out opinions on the Accounts.
- An Annual Audit Report to the Scottish Government and the Auditor General for Scotland setting out significant matters identified from the audit of the Accounts, conclusions from the wider scope audit, recommendations, where required, and any good practice identified.

26. The matters to be reported in the outputs will be discussed with the Scottish Government for factual accuracy before they are issued. All outputs from the audit will be published on Audit Scotland's website, apart from the Independent Auditor's Report, which is included in the audited Accounts.

27. Target dates for the audit outputs are set by the Auditor General for Scotland.

28. The Independent Auditor's Report and Annual Audit Report are planned to be issued by the target date of 31 October 2026.

Audit timetable

29. Achieving the timetable for production of the Scottish Consolidated Fund Accounts, supported by complete and accurate working papers, is critical to delivery of the audit to agreed target dates. Exhibit 3 includes a timetable for the audit, which has been agreed with management. These dates will be kept under review as the audit progresses, and any changes required, and their potential impact, will be discussed with the Scottish Government and reported to those charged with governance, where required.

Audit fee

30. The Scottish Consolidated Fund audit fee is determined in line with Audit Scotland's fee setting arrangements. The audit fee for the 2025/26 audit has been set at the baseline level of £27,670 (2024/25: £26,520).

31. In setting the audit fee, it is assumed that the Scottish Government has effective governance arrangements in place and the complete Accounts will be provided for audit in line with the agreed timetable. The audit fee assumes there will be no significant changes to the planned scope of the audit. Where the audit cannot proceed as planned, for example, due to incomplete or inadequate working papers, the audit fee may need to be increased.

Other matters

Internal audit

32. The Scottish Government is responsible for establishing an internal audit function as part of an effective system of internal control. As part of the audit, the audit team will obtain an understanding of internal audit, including its nature, responsibilities, and activities.

33. While internal audit and external audit have differing roles and responsibilities, external auditors may seek to rely on the work of internal audit where it is considered appropriate. A review of internal audit's 2025/26 audit plan was carried out to identify if there were any areas where the audit team could rely on its work. The audit team concluded it will not rely on internal audit's work. However, the audit team will consider any internal audit reports and assess if there is any impact on the audit.

Audit quality

34. Audit Scotland is committed to the consistent delivery of high-quality audit. Audit quality requires ongoing attention and improvement to keep pace with external and internal changes. Details of the arrangements in place are available from the Audit Scotland website.

35. The International Standards on Quality Management (ISQM) applicable to Audit Scotland for 2025/26 audits are:

- ISQM (UK) 1, which deals with an audit organisation's responsibilities to design, implement, and operate a system of quality management (SoQM) for audits. Audit Scotland's SoQM consists of a variety of components, such as governance arrangements and culture to support audit quality, compliance with ethical requirements, ensuring Audit Scotland is dedicated to high-quality audit through engagement performance and resourcing arrangements, and ensuring there are robust quality monitoring arrangements in place. Audit Scotland carries out an annual evaluation of its SoQM and has concluded it complies with this standard.
- ISQM (UK) 2, which sets out arrangements for conducting engagement quality reviews, which are performed by senior management not involved in an audit, to review significant judgements and conclusions reached by the audit team, and the appropriateness of proposed audit opinions on high-risk audits.

36. To monitor quality at an individual audit level, Audit Scotland carries out internal quality reviews on a sample of audits. Additionally, the Institute of Chartered Accountants of England and Wales (ICAEW) carry out independent quality reviews on a sample of audits.

37. Actions to address deficiencies identified by internal and external quality reviews are included in a rolling Quality Improvement Action Plan, which is used to support continuous improvement. Progress with implementing planned actions is monitored on a regular basis by Audit Scotland's Quality and Ethics Committee.

38. Audit Scotland may periodically seek the views of the Scottish Government on the quality of audit services provided. The audit team would also welcome feedback at any time.
