

MEETING: 12 AUGUST 2021

REPORT BY: SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSION

UPDATE REPORT

Purpose

1. The purpose of this report is to provide an update to the Commission on significant recent activity relating to local government, including issues relating to Covid-19.
2. The Commission receives regular information to complement this report, which is available through the members' SharePoint site. This includes:
 - The Controller of Audit report to the Commission, updating the Commission on his activity.
 - An update on issues relating to local government which is considered by the Commission's Financial Audit and Assurance Committee.
 - A weekly news coverage briefing provided to the Commission by Audit Scotland's Communication Team.

Commission business

Publications

3. Audit Scotland collects media coverage on all reports published by the Accounts Commission. Appendix 1 provides download statistics for the Commission's published reports over the last 12 months. Appendix 2 provides additional information on the overall engagement that reports and other business have received on social media.
4. On 3 June the Accounts Commission published its annual report for 2020/21.
5. On 24 June the Accounts Commission published a best value assurance report on Aberdeen City Council. The report found that over the past five years Aberdeen City Council has significantly improved its performance while making challenging savings targets and acting to reshape the city's economy. However, improvements need to accelerate in housing and education.
6. On 28 June Andrew Burns, Accounts Commission Member blogged on public services and Scotland's voluntary sector during Covid-19, writing that the rapid response to the pandemic by the voluntary sector, statutory partners, regulators, and funders has shown what can be achieved through positive partnerships.
7. In terms of social media engagement, June saw the highest levels of engagement over the last 18 months. The period included the full engagement statistics from the Local government overview report, which has driven the strong numbers (see appendix 2). The best value assurance report on Aberdeen City Council was also well engaged with. In June the Commission also promoted Commission Member Andrew Burns' blog (see above), as well as Commission Member Christine Lester's vlog of June's meeting, the Commission's annual report and the Code of Audit Practice. July has been a quieter month. The focus has been on re-promoting previous work, as well as promoting subscription to email alerts. Upcoming activity includes promoting the August meeting and the live stream.

Other Commission business

8. At the Commission's Financial Audit and Assurance Committee meeting on 27 May, Pauline Weetman asked a question on Audit Scotland's correspondence process when an issue is not within Audit Scotland's remit. In such an event, if possible, Audit Scotland would provide details of another regulator or body that may be able to help the correspondent, explaining what the body does and their reasoning for signposting the respondent to that body.
9. On 25 June Douglas Lumsden MSP lodged a motion congratulating Aberdeen City Council on its Best Value Assurance report from the Accounts Commission.
10. The Interim Chair wrote on 29 June to the new conveners of the following Scottish parliamentary committees, introducing the Commission and advising that we are keen on building on our relationship with parliamentary committees that have an interest in local government issues. The letters are available on the members' SharePoint site. She also offered further discussion in this regard with each convener.
 - Local Government, Housing and Planning Committee
 - Education, Children and Young People Committee
 - Health, Social Care and Sports Committee
 - Finance Committee.
11. Meantime, the Auditor General Stephen Boyle has had an introduction to the Public Audit Committee and a separate introductory meeting with the Committee's Convenor. Audit Scotland senior managers are also engaging with the clerks of the other Parliamentary committees to discuss working relationships and future collaboration.
12. On 29 July, the Interim Chair wrote to Ariane Burgess MSP, new Convener of the Local Government, Housing and Planning Committee. This was in response to the Committee's call for views on the Commission's priorities within the Committee's remit. The letter can be found on the members' SharePoint site.
13. Subsequently, there has been further liaison with the Committee involving the Interim Chair and Secretary. A briefing session is being arranged by the Committee in coming weeks involving the Commission, to consider the above response and the Commission's most recently published local government overview report and financial overview report.
14. Members are asked to review the members' communications schedule on the members' SharePoint site. This includes a list of planned publications and communication activities for the year, along with indicative roles for members in promotion and engagement activities. This document is live and is updated monthly, following discussion with the Interim Chair and Audit Scotland's work programme and communications teams. Members are asked to share their thoughts on the schedule, as well as any suggestions for further communications items either by commenting in the Teams discussion, or directly to the schedule.
15. At its last meeting I advised the Commission that the Secretary of State for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy (BEIS) had issued a consultation paper that proposes a package of measures aimed at improving the UK's audit, corporate reporting and corporate governance systems in the private sector. The Commission agreed to the recommendation of the Financial Audit and Assurance Committee that it delegate to the Interim Chair, Interim Deputy Chair and past FAA Committee Chair to agree the terms of a response to the consultation. The response submitted is available on the members' Sharepoint site.

16. At its last meeting, I advised the Commission that on 2 June the Acting Ethical Standards Commissioner had written to the Commission seeking its views on his draft strategic plan for 2021-24. The Interim Chair subsequently responded to the Commissioner, a copy of which has been placed on the members' SharePoint site.
17. On 19 July, Audit Scotland held a roundtable discussion with a range of key stakeholders operating in the climate change sector. The session was chaired by the Director of Performance Audit and Best Value and attended by Commission members Andrew Burns and Sharon O'Connor. Attendees discussed the challenges and opportunities for Scotland in delivering on the net zero target. The audit team are preparing to publish a summary of the session in the Autumn, which will be publicly available and shared with Commission members.
18. On 3 August, the Interim Chair and the Auditor General for Scotland wrote a joint letter to Professor Ken Muir, congratulating him on his appointment as adviser to the Scottish Government on the matters raised in the OECD review of the Curriculum of Excellence. They highlighted relevant matters in the joint March 2021 performance audit on Improving outcomes for young people through school education. A copy of the letter can be found on the members' SharePoint site.
19. In paragraph 16 of the May update report, I noted that we had requested trends in public library closures from the Chartered Institute of Public Finance and Accountability (CIPFA). Trends on Scottish library closures can now be found on the members' SharePoint site.
20. On 30 July, the Scottish Government's Director General Corporate wrote to all public bodies outlining new staff guidance and a handbook on the reopening of Scottish Government offices. These documents are both saved on the members' SharePoint site.
21. Audit Scotland's New Financial Powers team have informed me that there are currently no significant issues on which to update the Commission. Consequently, the team have proposed that instead of its six-monthly reporting to the Commission (the next one of which is due in September), the team update the Commission as and when issues arise. They anticipate that the next most appropriate time to update the Commission will be following the Fiscal Framework Review, which is due by the end of 2021/22. The Commission is asked to agree with this approach.

Auditor General

22. In June Stephen Boyle, Auditor General for Scotland wrote blogs on:
 - Making climate change an audit priority
 - Investing in skills
23. On 17 June the Auditor General published a briefing on Covid-19: Personal Protective Equipment. The rise in PPE prices at the start of the Covid-19 pandemic increased costs for the body that provides support services to the NHS by over £37 million.
24. On 8 July the Auditor General published a blog on the Scottish Government's provisional outturn. He writes that transparency over public spending remains vital during the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic.

25. On 15 July the Auditor General published a briefing entitled Community justice: sustainable alternatives to custody. The briefing finds that the Scottish Government has yet to achieve its objective of ensuring that people convicted of criminal offences increasingly receive community-based sentences instead of going to prison.

Audit Scotland

26. On 3 June Antony Clark, Interim Controller of Audit and Interim Director of Performance Audit and Best Value wrote a blog on social care, commenting that changes to how social care is provided in Scotland are needed – but the solutions are far from simple. There was good engagement with the blog on Twitter and it was covered in the Herald, Scotsman, Daily Mail, The National, Morning Star and healthandcare.scot. The coverage is saved here.
27. On 11 June Audit Scotland published:
- Annual report and accounts 2020/21
 - Correspondence and whistleblowing annual report 2020/21
 - International work annual report 2020/21
 - Quality of public audit in Scotland annual report 2020/21
 - Transparency report 2020
28. As noted in paragraph 21 of the June update report, on 1 July Audit Scotland published its Fraud and irregularity report 2020/21.
29. Audit Scotland submitted a response on behalf of the Commission and Auditor General to the Public Sector Audit Appointment's consultation on its draft prospectus. The response has been saved here on the members' SharePoint site.
30. Audit Scotland colleagues attended a recent International Public Policy Observatory (IPPO) event on 'Action on Covid-19 Inequalities'. Relevant papers have been saved here on the members' SharePoint site. Policy cluster teams will include some of the key messages from the event in their briefing for the next meeting of the Performance Audit Committee in August.

Issues affecting Scottish local government

Scottish Government

31. Given that Covid-19 has resulted in a significant number of matters originating from the Scottish Government, this section is divided, for ease of reference, into the following sub-sections:
- Local government general
 - Economy
 - Health and social care
 - Education
 - Transport

- Communities
- Business
- Covid-19 measures
- Climate change
- Other matters

Local government general

32. On 8 June the Scottish Government published management information provided by local authorities relating to support to isolate and support for people during the coronavirus pandemic.
33. On 10 June the Scottish Government published its analysis of responses to its consultation – on which the Commission previously responded - on possible revisions to the Councillors’ Code of Conduct. The paper also notes that the Scottish Government will consider the key findings and decide what actions – if any – need to be taken forward in finalising the revised Code in response to the consultation feedback. Thereafter, the Scottish Government will take the actions required to ensure the Code is laid before the Scottish Parliament for scrutiny and approval at the earliest possible date. The Commission will therefore maintain a close interest in the passage of any revised Code. Separately, Brodies LLP published a blog on some of the changes the Scottish Government is proposing.
34. On 10 June Boundaries Scotland submitted to Scottish Ministers its final proposals for councillor numbers and wards in Argyll and Bute, Highland and North Ayrshire council areas to Scottish Ministers. The Islands (Scotland) Act 2018 required the Commission to review the six councils containing inhabited islands (Argyll and Bute, Highland, North Ayrshire, Orkney, Shetland and Na h-Eileanan an Iar) as soon as practicable. The reviews formally commenced in January 2019 and the Commission has submitted its proposals on a timescale that would allow them to be in force, if accepted by the Scottish Parliament, in time for the local government elections in 2022. The reviews propose a single member island ward for Arran (North Ayrshire); three two-member “islands-only” wards in Argyll and Bute; and five-member wards in North Ayrshire and Highland.
35. On 10 June the Scottish Government announced that the children and young people most impacted by Covid-19 will be supported by £20 million to create opportunities to socialise, play and reconnect this summer. Councils will receive £15 million and up to £5 million has been allocated to a coalition of 18 national partners.
36. On 11 June the Scottish Government published child protection statistics 2020: local authority benchmarking tool and looked after children statistics 2020: local authority benchmarking tool.
37. On 22 June the Scottish Government published:
 - local government 2020-21 provisional outturn and 2021-22 budget estimates
 - council tax collection statistics, 2020-21
 - council tax reduction in Scotland, 2020-21

38. On 1 July Shirley-Anne Somerville, Cabinet Secretary for Education and Skills, provided a response to a question lodged by Beatrice Wishart MSP relating to the distribution of 70,000 devices for learners, broken down by local authority area.
39. On 5 July the Scottish Government published an FOI release on the allocation of additional funding to local authorities for the recruitment of teachers.
40. On 6 July the Scottish Government announced £10 million for projects that restore nature and tackle biodiversity loss. Half of the funding will go to local authorities to develop new or existing projects.
41. On 7 July the Scottish Government published guidance for local authorities on making applications under the Bellwin Scheme for emergency financial assistance. Information about the threshold levels has also been published. The Bellwin Scheme operates under the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 and allows Scottish Ministers to make additional revenue support to local authorities to assist with the immediate, and unforeseen costs in dealing with the aftermath of emergency incidents.
42. In July the Scottish Government published figures on local authority-administered funding made available to businesses affected by Covid restrictions to Friday 25 June.
43. On 9 July the Scottish Government published independent research on section 75 planning obligations and other developer contributions mechanisms. The research estimates that in 2019/20 approximately £490 million worth of developer contributions were agreed, of which £310m was for affordable housing and £180m towards infrastructure. All but two planning authorities use developer contributions. However, the value of what is achieved is heavily concentrated in a few areas. Many authorities also make extensive use of planning conditions to secure in-kind contributions. Around 75% of authorities use developer contributions to secure affordable housing.
44. On 16 July the Scottish Government announced an increase in affordable homes funding for local authorities. Councils across Scotland are to share more than £3.2 billion in grant funding over five years to deliver more affordable homes.
45. On 21 July the Scottish Government announced that its Area Based Scheme (ABS) programme will provide over £64 million in 2021/22 – up from £55 million the year before – to enable local authorities in Scotland to deliver energy efficiency measures.

The Scottish Government highlighted that more than seven out of ten children in ELC are now receiving the full 1,140 funded hours.
71. On 17 June the Scottish Government published the 2020 Attainment Scotland Fund Evaluation: Headteacher Survey report. The survey found 90 per cent of respondents had seen improvement in closing the poverty-related attainment gap and 88 per cent expected further improvement. 95 per cent felt that Covid-19 had affected progress.
72. On 19 June the Scottish Government highlighted that pupils living in Scotland's most deprived communities will be among those to benefit from £215 million of targeted funding in 2021-22 to help close the poverty-related attainment gap.
73. On 21 June the Office for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) published its review of the Curriculum for Excellence (CfE). Key findings include:

- The CfE continues to be a bold and widely supported initiative, and its design offers the flexibility needed to improve student learning.
 - Stakeholder engagement is at the heart of CfE and offers the possibility, with better structure, for shared ownership and effective leadership.
 - Continued efforts are needed to enhance the coherence of policy with the CfE.
 - The implementation of CfE has lacked structure and long-term perspective.
74. In relation to the publication of the above review, Education Secretary Shirley-Anne Somerville announced that all 12 of its recommendations will be accepted in full, including recommendations on curriculum, assessment and qualifications which will see the Scottish Qualifications Authority (SQA) replaced and Education Scotland substantially reformed.
